JCME Special Collection: Expanding the voices in CME-CPD

I invite you to contribute to the JECME 2023 Special Collection on “Expanding the Voices in CME-CPD”. The goal of this Special Collection is to highlight different voices that are included in CME-CPD and how listening to and involving these voices adds value and impacts engagement across the professions and various stakeholder groups around the world.

We are specifically seeking manuscripts that address, but are not limited to, the following categories:

- Patients and their role, experiences and outcomes in CME-CPD
- Team-based learning/interprofessional continuing education
- Nurses and other allied health professionals
- Postgraduate trainers
- Medical, pharmacy and nursing schools
- Paramedical organizations
- Regulators and appraisers
- Accreditors
- Health information systems (big data)

We will accept the following types of manuscript:

Research Article

Detailed report of a quantitative, qualitative or mixed methods study. Up to 4,000 words.

Brief Communication

Concise research findings or a discussion of issues/proposed solutions as they relate to the CME/CPD field. Up to 2,500 words.

Comment

A personal opinion or a new perspective around different voices in CME-CPD. Up to 1000 words.

- Consider contributing an “aha” moment or personal story that because of the inclusion of different voices, your perspectives on CME-CPD changed in some way.

Manuscripts must be submitted by 31 July 2023 with the expectation that the Special Collection will be published before year’s end.

JCME is an Open Access journal and the publisher requires that authors pay an Article Publishing Charge (APC). This is set at €1,365 for Research Articles and €910 for Brief Communications, Comments are free. Waivers and discounts are available, especially for authors from Low and Low-Middle Income countries, more information can be found here. Make sure to use the Submission Portal when submitting your article.

Please feel free to share widely, tag #JCMEexpandingvoices in your social media posts! Let me know if you have any questions and my editorial team and I look forward to receiving your submission!
